Re: Mandatory Sexual Harassment/Abusive Conduct
Prevention & Response Training for Supervisors

Government Code section 12950.1 provides that public sector employers must provide all supervisory employees with at least two hours of sexual harassment and abusive conduct training and education. This training must be provided at least once every two years and to all new supervisory personnel within six months of their assumption of a supervisory position.

In an effort to assist our clients in meeting this requirement, Schools Legal Service will provide the required training/education to both its JPA members and contract clients.

As a result of COVID-19, we are offering these workshops via Zoom. Attendees will be required to register with name and email before entering the meeting. Admittance will not be granted if you sign in more than 15 minutes late. A video/web camera is required. Attendees must attend the entire workshop to be granted a certificate of completion.

Pre-registration is required and the cost is $50 per person.
